- E-commerce Web Application: I am currently working on a personal project called ShopSwift, an E-commerce web application. I have successfully completed the backend development using Node.js, Express, and MongoDB, implementing REST APIs for managing categories, products and user authentication. Currently, I am focused on the frontend development using React to provide an interactive and user-friendly shopping experience. (July 2023)

- Database Management: Collaborated on a group project to create a relational database for an online Game Zone. Utilized PostgreSQL to design and create necessary tables, normalized data, executed data queries, and developed a Software Requirements Specification (SRS) for the project. Worked closely with team members to ensure proper database design and efficient data management. (Sep '21 - Nov '21)
- Study Mobile phone interaction patterns among elderly and propose prototypes for easier screen based interaction(Human Computer Interaction): Conducted research in a group on mobile interaction patterns among elderly individuals, focusing on local participants. Gathered data through surveys and for locals conducted interviews to identify the challenges faced by elderly users in mobile phone interaction. Analyzed existing prototypes and solutions targeting these challenges and created research paper containing this study. (Apr '22 - May '22)
